

Descendants of William Dalton

Generation 1

1. WILLIAM¹ DALTON was born about 1786 in Owing Townland, Co. Kilkenny, Ireland. He died before 1838 in Rear of Knoydart, Maple Ridge, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, Canada. He married Alice Fitzgerald on 16 Jun 1822 in St John's Basilica, Newfoundland and Labrador, Canada. She was born about 1795 in Owing Townland, Co. Kilkenny, Ireland. She died after 1871 in Rear of Knoydart, Maple Ridge, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Notes for William Dalton:

William Dalton was born about or before 1795 in Owing Townland, County Kilkenny, Ireland. Landed in St John's, Newfoundland and Labrador in 1822. There, he married Alice Fitzgerald also from his hometown on 16 Jun 1822. Together, they emigrated to Antigonish, Nova Scotia, in July of 1822. He had four sons and one daughter with Alice between 1823 and 1833. On 23rd of August 1822, William Dalton petitioned for a land grant at Knoydart, near Arisaig, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia. On the 30 March 1829, he is found with his parcel of land on the map of Knoydart, Antigonish County Nova Scotia. He died there before the 1838 census in Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, at the age of about 43.

The surname Dalton was first found in Alton, England where one source claims a Walter fled to "from France having incurred the wrath of the French king by secretly marrying his daughter." [1] Another source has a clearer version of origin, namely: "that Sir Waltero de Aliton, a Frenchman, aspiring to gain the affections of his king's daughter, so incurred the displeasure of her father, that, to avoid the fury of an incensed Monarch, Sir Walterio, with his lady, privately, retired into Ireland." This same Walterio fought so valiantly that he was made "governor of the borders of Meath" where he "acquired great estates and possessions." [2] Essentially, the origins are similar; Walter (Walterio) fled with the king's daughter to England (Ireland.) We will probably never know which rendition is true, but we do know that the surname was in Ireland as early as the 13th century, so much so that the name had a Gaelic version: Dalatún.

William Dalton petitioned for land at rear of Knoydart, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia 23 August 1822.

The Irish name for Owing is Ónainn.

County Kilkenny Ireland History

The Daton Family
Early Documented History

In the Calendar of Ormond Deeds, the first mention of Daton, with a County Kilkenny connection, appears as a witness of a release and quit-claim to Sir Edmund le Botiller [Butler] in the manor and barony of Cnoketothyr [Knocktopher]. Hugh Datoun, knight, was among the witnesses of this grant, dated February 28, 1314, and given at Dublin.

The Ormond Deeds mention a number of Datouns in records recorded about 1359, including the following names Richard Datoun, knight; Peter Datoun and John Dauton; Richard Dalton and John Roth Dalton; Richard son of John Dalton; and Richard son of James Datoun.

A Walter son of Richard Dantoun, knight, is recorded as a witness, on September 6, 1375, of lands in the lordship of Overk [Iverk], Co. Kilkenny. A Richard Dantoun is cited in an earlier deed, dated November, 1352, at an undisclosed place.

Another entry in this work records that "Walter Datoun quit-claims to James, Earl of Ormond, all his right in all lands, tenements, rents, etc., in the lordships of Kildras, Correstoun and Metlagh in county Kilkenny." This grant was given at Waterford, dated December 24, 1379, and indicates the Datons had possessed a number of properties in south central County Kilkenny.

In the Court roll of the manor of Kilcrone [Co. Kilkenny], circa 1400, listed among the suitors of the court of Kilcrone is a Raymond Daton for [rent of] Balikarrowill.

NOTE: Raymond and Redmund are often used as the same name.

In November, 1419, a Henry Datoun is listed among the jurors at an inquisition at Corbaliesford which outlined the parcels of royal service divided between the Barony of Knocktopher and the Newtown of Jerpoint (Co. Kilkenny).

On July 18, 1438, is recorded a deed of attorney by Raymond fitz Walter Datoun appointing Nocholas fitzElys Datoun his bailiff for placing Richard fitz Redmund de Valle and Joan his wife in full seisin of a townland called Atheny near of Lynnan in county Tipperary, to have and to hold to them and the heirs male between them begotten. Given at Castleton.

Dated August 31, 1446 is a deed of attorney of Anastasia Daton, daughter and heir of John Daton, appointing Nicholas MacElyot her bailiff for delivery to Geoffrey Vale (albeit, de Valle), chaplain, full seisin of all her lands, etc. in counties Kilkenny, Tipperary and elsewhere. Given at Henberyston.

In a record dated about 1453, the estate of Redmund fitz Walter Daton is enumerated, as lands in: "Castletown, Whytchurch, Newtoun, Ballnemeale alias Kyllomory, Newgraige, two acres in Garrynerchy, Kylmedally, Ballyfoyle, Ballyen, Bremill, Rogeristown, Cloghistare, Twor Portenshe (?), Liclaman, Twor Dowlinge, Cowlerve, Ballybeataghe, Fencockstowne, Tomynstowne, and a plot (plac') from Kylteran which estate bears date xxo die Octobris anno regni Regis Henrici quarti post conquestum Anglie (blank)."

"In which estate the revercioun of the lands which Margaret the wife of said Walter had in dower was likewise past."

The record goes on to cite that "Redmund Daton had issue Robert and Redmund [fitz Redmund]. Robert past forty acres with their appurtenances called Mone Rothe in tenemento de Owing to his second brother Patrick and his heirs." The record appears to show the descent of Richard fitz Redmund to his son, Patrick fitz Richard Daton, and then to his grandson Walter fitz Patrick Daton, and finally that Walter [fitz Patrick] Daton had issue John Daton fitz Walter. In the mix, it cites an estate in taylor from Richard fitzPatricke Daton to his son Patrick fitzRichard Daton of the land of Moyntroo (presumably Mone Rothe above), dated February 1533, and that the heir of this Patricke fitz Richard is to be sought out.

On January 16, 1453, the grant from Robert son of Redmund Datoun to Patrick son of Redmund Datoun is recorded. He granted Patrick forty acres of land which are called "Monrothe" in the tenement of Unynge. Among the witnesses were Richard Datoun and Redmund fitzJohn.

In an indenture dated September 12, 1457, it cites Robert Datown, William Datown, Patrick Datown and Richard Datown, the sons of Redmund Datown, late lord of the Datowns. It goes on to describe Robert as lord and heir of the Datowns.

On December 21, 1492, Redmund (Redmundus) Datoun, lord of Cillmogulla,

Cillcrispine and Athena, in the counties Kilkenny and Tipperary, gives and grants to John son of Peter Butler his tenements of Cillcrispine and Athene on the west side of Lyucan and Sliabh dille in the county Tipperary with all its tenements, lands, woods, plains, mills, etc., and all free liberties pertaining thereto, to him and his heirs forever. In the accompanying quit-claim of this transaction, Redmund Datoun is described as captain of his nation.

NOTE: According to Hogan's Onomasticon Goidelicum Sliabh Dil is the hilly region east of Slievenamon in county Tipperary, extending to Carrick-on-Suir, and in county Kilkenny to Windgap and to Owing near Pilltown. Ahenna, Kilclipsin and Garryduff of county Tipperary are in it, so are Curraghmore and Cahernane of county Kilkenny.

The Datons of Kildaton

The following passage comes from Carrigan's History and Antiquities of the Diocese of Ossory and entitled "The Datons of Kildaton."

The name Daton, or D'Autun, now incorrectly written Dalton, appears in Kilkenny records as early as 1382, in which year Walter Daton and others were appointed Keepers of the Peace in said County (source: Patent Rolls). John fitz Redmund Daton was appointed to the same office in 1425. On the 20th Dec., 1516, McRedmond Daton, chief of his nation, and lord of Cyllecyspine and Athene (Kilclispeen and Ahenny), in the Co. Tipperary, granted John fitz Peter le Botiller all right, &c., which he had in his (Daton's) demesne of Cillcrispine and Athene, on the west side of the Lyneam (i.e. Lingaun river), in the Co. Tipperary (source: Graves's MSS.). About 1565 "Daton and his kinsmen's landes houlden of the mannour of the Grannagh" were estimated at 100 marks (166 13s. 4d.).

What date the family settled at Kilmodalla, or Kildaton, now Bessborough, is unknown. In a document of 1592, the townland is called "Daton's Kill," which shows that in that year, at least, the Datons were well established here. In the same year died William Daton of Kildaton, chief of his nation. His will, dated Nov. 15th, 1592, and proved the 6th of January, 1592-93, is as follows:

"In Dei nomine. Amen. In the yere of our Lord 1592 and the 15 of November, I, William Daten being sicke in body and whole in minde and in full memory, dith make my last will and testament in presence of God and holy church. Item. I bequeath my soul to Almighty God and to all the holy company of heaven, and my body to the earth to be buried in the chapple of Kilmoygall. And I make my wife Margaret Butler and my sonne Edmund Daton my executors of this my last will and testament. Itm. more I will and ordayne all my goodss moveable and unmoveable in iii equal porcions that is to saie one parte to my wife, the seconf parte to my children and the third part to my soule. Itm. all my goods moveable is 6 cables and one kowe and 8 and 20 shepe and the valewe of xvteen. sh[illings] of iron and brasse."

Edmund Daton, son and heir of William, was 25 years old at the time of his father's death, and was, therefore, born in 1567. He died Aug. 1st. 1629, and was buried with his ancestors "in the chapel of Kilmadalie." By his wife, Margaret, daughter of GErard Blanchville of Blanchvillestown, whom he had married before Nov., 1592, he left issue: -- Walter, his heir, John, on whom he settled Whitechurch and New Graig; Edward; Oliver; William; Theobald; Margaret; Catherine; Elizabeth; and Allan.

Walter, the eldest son and heir, was of full age at his father's death, and married to Ellice, sister of Richard, 3rd Viscount Mountgarret. He was still living in 1641, but died within the next dozen years.

Edmund Daton, his successor and, presumably, his son, forfeited, in 1653, the family estates, which, according to the Down Survey Books, then comprised the townlands of Kildaton (a castle), Curloghan, Tubernabrone and Lisnagenny, Ballaghdownlin, Ballagh[na]metagh, Jamestown, Gorheen and Bannagher.

"William Daton, of Kildaton, Esq.," probably the representative of Edmund, was outlawed and attainted by the Williamites, Apr. 20th, 1691. Other members of the family outlawed in the same day were: Walter Daton, of Kilonasbog, Esq.; Walter Daton, of Garrynerehy, gent.; Redmond Daton, of Kilonasbog, gent.; and William Daton, of the City of Kilkenny, gent. (afterwards Bishop of Ossory)

Kildaton Castle stood on a low ridge or mound, about 250 yards, east of Bessborough House. It was taken down soon after the erection of the present mansion, which dates from 1744.

In Irish, Daton is pronounced Dhawthoon. The Irish of Kildaton or Bessborough is Kyle-a-Dhawthoona, i.e. Daton's Kill or Church.

William Dalton was born about or before 1795 in Owing Townland, County Kilkenny, Ireland. Landed in St John's, Newfoundland and Labrador in 1822. There, he married Alice Fitzgerald also from his hometown on 16 Jun 1822. Together, they emigrated to Antigonish, Nova Scotia, in July of 1822. He had four sons and one daughter with Alice between 1823 and 1833. On 23rd of August 1822, William Dalton petitioned for a land grant at Knoydart, near Arisaig, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia. On the 30 March 1829, he is found with his parcel of land on the map of Knoydart, Antigonish County Nova Scotia. He died there before 1838 census in Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, at the age of about 40-43.

Notes for Alice Fitzgerald:

Piltown also has a unique place in English history as it was the only place on the island of Ireland to see a battle in the Wars of the Roses. In the Battle of Piltown (1462) Thomas FitzGerald, 7th Earl of Desmond, on the side of the House of York, defeated the Butlers of Kilkenny, fighting for the House of Lancaster, resulting in more than 400 casualties for the Butlers.[6] Local folklore claims that the battle was so violent that the local river ran red with blood, hence the names Pill River and Piltown (Baile an Phuill - Town of the blood).

Notes for Elizabeth MacDonald:

Pictou Advocate, Friday, 20 October 1916, page 1:

Mrs Elizabeth Dalton celebrated her 90th birthday the first of the week by walking from the home of her son Jack, to that of her son William, to pay him a birthday visit and just to show that she was still a young woman, she danced the Gillie Callum. Mrs Dalton is a wonderfully well preserved woman as is evident from the foregoing. She possesses all her faculties and takes a keen interest in all that transpires in the town.

MORRISTOWN, Antigonish County

A settlement N.E. of Antigonish.

The township of Morristown was established in 1856. It was probably named after John Morris who had surveyed the farms in the district. Among the first grantees were Nathaniel Roy Thomas, Mrs. Sarah Thomas and Benjamin Ogden. About 1800 immigrants from the Highlands began to arrive in the district and to buy the farms of the former loyalist soldiers. Among these Highland immigrants were Angus Ban McGillivray and William McGillivray of Arisaig, Scotland, Ewan McGillivray and Angus and John McIsaac, Angus Kennedy and Donald, Angus and Alexander MacDonald.

There was a school there in 1827 and a new school-house was built about 1880.

There was a postal way office from 1855 to 1867.

The population in 1956 was 89.

Samuel Dalton and Mary Chisholm had the following children:

- i. EDWARD³ DALTON was born in 1853 in Arisaig, Antigonish, Nova Scotia. He died on 03 Dec 1923 in Hallowell Grant, Antigonish, NS. He married MARY GILLIS. She was born in 1876.

- ii. JOHN DALTON was born on 15 Sep 1854 in Hallowell Grant, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia.

12. iii. CHRISTINA DALTON was born on 07 Aug 1857 in Arisaig, Antigonish, Nova Scotia. She died on 16 Mar 1929 in Morristown, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, Canada. She married JOHN M MCGILLIVARY.

- iv. WILLIAM C. DALTON was born in 1859. He died in 1909 in Sask..

- v. MARY JANE DALTON was born on 08 Sep 1860 in Arisaig, Antigonish, Nova Scotia.

She died on 25 Jun 1919 in Pictou, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, Canada. He married (2) SARAH DION about 1883.

Notes for John Dalton:

1910 - icebreaker STANLEY, Hudson Bay surveys Capt. Dalton

Mar 28 & Apr 4 1913 It took the quarter of a century old icebreaker, the Government steamer "Stanley" just nine hours to negotiate the one hundred and twenty miles journey from the Magdalene Islands to this port, arriving here Monday night about 10 o'clock. On the passage Captain Dalton sighted scarcely a speck of ice, only a small scattering off Cape North. The "Stanley" left here Friday and on the run to the Magdalen Islands encountered considerable ice, out of which she could not extricate herself until she drifted quite a distance. (Pat 5 Apr p8# 3)

John Dalton and Matilda Margaret Grant had the following children:

- i. JAMES⁴ DALTON was born on 22 Sep 1893 in Pictou, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Notes for William Chester Dalton:

Left William "Ditto" Dalton and on the right Peter Owen "Peachie" Carroll, Pictou's police chief, were both flamboyant, well-known Pictou characters in the early 1900s. They both appreciated good hunting dogs, and Ditto Dalton was a breeder. He also had a goat trained to walk a tightrope.

William "Ditto" Dalton, born 16 May 1867 Pictou, son of James Dalton and Elizabeth MacDonald. He is standing in front of his business with his arms folded in 1890. "Ditto" ran the Red Onion, a popular watering hole of the late 1800s and early 1900s. To run a liquor establishment in those days of Prohibition involved some ingenuity in finding loop-holes in anti-alcohol legislation. Could it be that Ditto's best buddy was Peter Owen Carroll the town's police chief? Peter "Peachie" Carroll had written a song about The Red Onion. The saloon was situated where the deCoste Entertainment Centre parking lot is today.

THE RED ONION

A Song Composed by Peter Owen Carroll

There is a place in the good old Town of Pictou,
Where all sporting men are welcome to go;
Its down to Bill Dalton's on South Market Street,
Around Tommy Meagher's corner, where Tommy sells meat.
Oh, the Red Onion is noted for fame,
Once you go there, boys, you will go back again-
For the proprietor he is jolly and free,
When he sings out: "Line up boys and have one on me."
There are curiosities by the score,
From the top of the roof down to the bar floor-
Such sights boys, I swear I ne'er saw before,
Since I left Kilkenny and dear Ireland's shore.
He has pigeons and singing birds as well,
And all sorts of dogs in his dog kennel;
He has game hens and game cocks from over the seas,
To fight in a battle like Jim Jefferies.
And Ditto" stands here with a pleasant broad smile,
Willing to bet the last cent of his pile;
He generally wins and he seldom does lose,
And he sells the choicest of "Halifax Booze"
Oh, the walls they are decorated up fine,
With relics and specimens from every clime,
Too numerous to mention I'll have you know
And Punch and Judy is a whole show.
Then success to the "Onion" and "Ditto" as well,
To all sporting men I'll bid a farewell,
For we'll sing and we'll dance and we'll ring joy with mirth,
For I had a good time, boys, since I was on earth.

Message Board Post:

My several times great aunt (and 1st cousin several times removed) Mary Anderson was not b. in Pictou Co., but in Northumberland Co., New Brunswick. Her mother (also a several times great aunt) was not b. in Murray River, but lived in Bedeque, PEI. That could mislead you.

Mary (Murray) Anderson was the d/o John and Mary (Kennedy) Murray from Upper Mumbiehurst, near Canonbie, Dumfriesshire, Scotland to Harpersfield in up-state New York, to Shelburne, NS in 1783 to Bedeque in 1784. Mary's family was:

8. MARY MURRAY b. probably Harpersfield, NY ca. 1773 (age 78 census of 1851), d.

15JUL1857 age 84 years, bur. Moorefield Presbyterian Cem., m. ca. 1798 JAMES ANDERSON (b. Dreany, near Lossiemouth, Scotland 1761, d. Burnt Church, Northumberland Co., NB 1814 age 53 years, bur. Moorefield Presbyterian Cem.)

Children:

81. MARGARET ANDERSON b. ca. 1800, m. ALEXANDER STEWART (b. ca. 1789-90, d. Newcastle, Newcastle Parish, Northumberland Co., NB 19JAN1872 age 83 years), s/o Alexander and Margaret Stewart.

Alexander and Margaret Stewart were in Newcastle Parish, Northumberland Co., NB in 1851 living next to Robert Simpson and James Simpson [87A]; where James' wife, Janet, is Margaret's sister.

Alexander's father may be the Alexander Stewart who died on the Miramichi 9MAY1827 age 46 years.

82. JANE ANDERSON b. Oak Point, NB ca. 1801-2, d. Tabusintac, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB 27APR1864, age 62 years, m. HUGH MURRAY [34] (b. ca. 1797-9, d. Tabusintac, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB 29MAY1884 age 85 years), s/o John and Mary (Liza?) (Chambers?) Murray

First Presbyterian Church Cem., Burnt Church, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB), s/o John and Lady Elizabeth (Mackie) Cassidy.

(There is some question as to John's parents, and an alternate (and far more likely) offering is James and Martha (Turnbull) Cassidy.

IN MEMORY OF JOHN CASSIDY WHO DIED JAN. 29, 1872 IN HIS 74th YEAR A NATIVE OF NOVA SCOTIA (NEXT LINE NOT LEGIBLE) HIS WIFE MARY ANDERSON BORN MAY 24, 1808 Died Feb. 28, 1901 (FOOT MARKER J.C.)

"The History of Miscou, Tracadie, Pokemouche, Caraquet, Tabusintac, Nguac and Burnt Church", W. F. Ganong:

"Cassidy was son of an Irishman who worked for a Laird in Scotland and eloped to America with his daughter, as it is said."

[Ganong's say-so does not make Cassidy's father-in-law a member of titled nobility, nor his wife necessarily a "Lady", in the aristocratic sense. Somewhat more definite proof is needed before that conclusion can be made. 'Laird' could be any large landowner, and Lady was a courtesy title to a daughter of a titled noble when she had no title of her own.]

Jack Cassidy, in an e-mail dated 25SEP2002, gives another suggestion. He refers to brothers, John and James Cassidy, Irish Protestants, who settled first in Pictou Co., NS ca. 1789. John m. Margaret Turnbull, and James m. Martha Turnbull, Margaret's sister, daughters of Thomas and Jean (or Jane) (MacKay) Turnbull. Amongst James' children were: James who eventually d. 1880 in Newcastle, NB, John b. ca. 1800, Andrew b. ca. 1802 and William b. ca. 1803. Jack Cassidy suggests that John, s/o James, might be the same John Cassidy who m. Mary Anderson. His reasons for believing this are:

- i. John Cassidy's headstone in Burnt Church gives his birthplace as Nova Scotia, and an obituary in the, Union Advocate, February, 1872, states he was "a Native of Pictou, Nova Scotia". His obit was also carried by the, Presbyterian Witness, Halifax.
- ii. The names of the children of John and Mary (Murray) Cassidy, James of Pictou Co. and his son, also James, all included: Martha, James, John, Andrew, William, Mary and Margaret.
- iii. James Cassidy, his sons; James, John and William, and his nephew, John Cassidy, s/o John, were all mentioned as being in the 1825 Miramichi Fire. "This information is derived from the NB Archives via the Miramichi Fire List recording losses due to the fire, and from the newspaper, Miramichi Mercury, which published a list of letters unclaimed in the Miramichi Post Office in 1826."
- iv. "I have copies of Land Petitions for James Cassidy (1827), John Cassidy (1826) and William Cassidy (1827) from the NB Archives. At those times, all are recently married - my James (ggrandfather) was first married (he married twice) in 1824; his brother John about 1825, (1st child Martha, if he is John of Burnt Church, was born April 18, 1826), and his brother William 1925/1826. Of interest is the spelling of Cassidy in one part of John Cassidy's land petition - CASADY - the same as the spelling in the 1817 Pictou census. John's land petition (F-4203) at that time was for 200 acres on the Great Nepisiguit River. The petition also says John had been in NB for 3 years in 1826. Interestingly, John of Burnt Church entered NB in 1823 per the 1851 census."
- vi. Lady Elizabeth MacKay (or variations) is said to have run from Scotland to marry one of her father's employees. Jack Cassidy relates: "Thomas Turnbull and Jean (Jane) MacKay arrived on PEI in 1774 from Scotland on the vessel Lovely Nelly. In 1775 they relocated to Pictou. On the 'Lovely Nelly' passenger list is given the reason the Turnbulls left Scotland which was "run away from this place", as a similar tradition.

added to this, Jack wrote in a query dated 22JUN2004:

John Cassidy (b.1757 Ireland, d.1842, Magdelan Islands, Quebec, Canada) arrived in Pictou, Nova Scotia in 1788/89 with a group of Lowland Scots on a vessel from Dumfriesshire, Scotland. That he was Irish is proven by his headstone in Canada - "In Memory of JOHN CASSIDY, Schoolmaster, a native of Ireland, died November 28, 1842, aged 85 years." No knowledge as to why he sailed from Scotland. He was married by Presbyterian Clergy, in Pictou in 1793 per Pictou marriage records. His brother JAMES CASSIDY also came to Pictou, either with John or later. James married in Pictou abt. 1796/97 based on birth of first child in 1798. They married Margaret and Martha Turnbull respectively, who were sisters. John and James both named their first born son - JAMES, suggesting perhaps their father was a James.

Elsewhere, Jack refers to a work, A History of the County of Pictou, Nova Scotia, written in 1877 by The Rev. George Patterson.

Elva Connors (11FEB2003) added information on the children of John and Mary Cassidy.

86. ELIZABETH ANDERSON b. 1APR1810, d. 21MAY1884, bur. First Presbyterian Church Cem., Burnt Church, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB, m. 17OCT1839 ROBERT DAVIDSON (b. Oak Point, NB 30MAR1796 (headstone says 30MAR1800), d. Burnt Church, NB 08OCT1886, bur. First Presbyterian Church Cem., Burnt Church, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB), s/o John and Margaret (Loggie) Davidson. (See Hugh Murray [34].)

87. JANET ANDERSON b. Oak Point, Northumberland Co., NB ca. 1812-3, m. JAMES SIMPSON (b. ca. 1808-9), s/o? John and Helen (Eleanor) (Hyde) Simpson.

James may have been connected to William Simpson [76A].

John Garner, (Ancestry.com, Simpson board, 20AUG2001), whose notes for James Simpson include:

"Entered NB in 1830. Came with his brother who went onto the US and then back to Canada. Not certain these are his parents. 1851 census implies James was born in 1809. Family # 376 in 1851 census.

"Sources: Daniel F. Johnson, Vital Statistics From New Brunswick (Canada) Newspapers."

Possibly the reference to a brother may have something to do with an entry on the 25MAY1861

edition of the Chatham, "The Gleaner and Northumberland Schediasma", which has an entry abstracted as:

"d. At his residence, Lower District, Newcastle parish (North. Co.), 18th inst., Robert Simpson, Sr., age 75, native of Parish of Speymouth, Morayshire, Scotland. Emigrated to this Country in 1830."

This Robert Simpson (ca. 1786-1861) would seem, however, to have been more likely a father than brother. Robert Simpson, in Newcastle Parish in 1851, was b. ca. 1788, arrived 1830 and had a wife, Margaret (Sinclair), b. ca. 1798. While it is unlikely that Margaret could be James' mother a connection appears to exist as James Simpson's household is listed next to Robert Simpson's in 1851. The next household, after Robert's, is that of Alexander (ca. 1790) and Margaret [81] (ca. 1800) Stewart where Margaret is Janet's sister. Clearly Robert and James Simpson were connected in some way.

William Simpson [76A] mentioned above was from Rothes, Morayshire, Scotland. Also from Rothes, Morayshire, Scotland was Henry Simpson (b. ca. 1778, d. Newcastle 9MAY1859 age 81 years.) James Simpson, and apparently a brother, Robert Simpson, seem connected to Henry as "Henery" headed the household largely consisting of Robert Simpson and his family. It seems as if Henry Simpson was likely an elder brother to Robert Simpson, and according to a death notice and the 1851 census, arrived before them in 1802-3. While it seems inescapable that Henry (ca. 1778), Robert (ca. 1786), James (ca. 1808-9) and William Simpson (b. Rothes, Morayshire, Scotland 30OCT1802, bpt. Elgin Parish 7NOV1802, d. Burnt Church, NB 22APR1884, bur. Old Burnt Church Cem., Burnt Church, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB), s/o Joseph (1775-1846) and Janet (Ogilvie) Simpson are somehow related the relationships seem to be of a slightly extended family. Henry Simpson seems to have been a bachelor, and likely was a brother to Robert and possibly James. William Simpson (b. 1802) is given as his nephew. Henery Simpson and William's father, Joseph J. Simpson, are given as sons of Archibald and Elspeth (Scott) Simpson.

James (42) and Janet (38) Simpson are in Newcastle Parish, Northumberland Co., NB in 1851. James is a joiner b. Scotland and arrived in 1830. Janet was b. NB. Children are Robert (16), James (14), Janet (10), Henry (7), Christina (5) and John (2.)

88. JOHN ANDERSON b. ca. 1814, d. 2OCT1874 aet. 60 years, bur. First Presbyterian Church Cem., Burnt Church, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB, m. MARGARY LOGGIE (b. ca. 1816, d. 23FEB1879 aet. 62 years, bur. First Presbyterian Church Cem., Burnt Church, Alnwick Parish, Northumberland Co., NB

In November, 1914, Lieutenant-Colonel T. M. Seely, of Yarmouth, N.S., was commissioned to organize a field artillery battery for overseas service to represent the maritime provinces in the Canadian Expeditionary Force. This battery was to be mobilized at Fredericton, N.B. About the middle of the month Lieutenant-Colonel Seely arrived in Fredericton. He had as officers - Captain E. A. Chisholm, of Antigonish, N.S.; and Captain J. K. MacKay, of Pictou, N.S., and Lieutenant R. V. Jones, of Woodstock, N.B. as Lieutenants. With this staff of efficient Officers, Lieutenant-Colonel Seely set to work. Men were enlisted by the several recruiting officers at the various field artillery headquarters throughout the maritime provinces. Lieutenant Irvine, of Fredericton, was the Medical Examiner, and L. A. Fullerton, of Annapolis Royal, N.S., was the Orderly Room Sergeant.

In a very short time the full number of men required was enlisted. They were quartered in the Fredericton Exhibition Buildings, which had been fitted up as a temporary barracks. The men were clothed in khaki field service uniforms, and the city began to have its old time appearance as a military depot. Yet Fredericton, though always accustomed to having soldiers stationed there, was experiencing a new sensation. These men were not the usual type of soldiers the city knew, but the very best of brain and youth, which the glorious old maritime provinces could produce. They were new to the military life, but all were possessed with determination to be taught and drilled, that they might become efficient in order to cope with the difficult task that lay before them. They were not men who had become soldiers for neither a steady job nor an easy life, but men who were making great sacrifices at home that the honor and principles of our glorious empires should be upheld.

Among the first to enlist was Holly H. Patchell, of St. John, N.B., a man of considerable experience in both cavalry and artillery work. He was appointed Sergeant-Major, and to him fell the task of drilling and instilling military discipline into the men. In this capacity he proved a great success and was ably assisted by Quartermaster-Sergeant B. Cameron, who had formerly been Sergeant-Major of the Eighteenth Field Battery, of Antigonish. Later Quartermaster-Sergeant Cameron was made Riding Instructor, and was succeeded in the Quartermaster-Sergeancy by Frank X. Jennings, of St. John, N.B.

About the 1st of December a great many students of the University of New Brunswick enlisted. This attracted the notice of other maritime Universities, whose students began to enroll. Soon the battery became known as the University Battery. From these students a number of very efficient non-commissioned Officers were developed, Sergeants - N. D. Cass, T. c. Barker and G. F. Kuhring; Corporals - J. P. Hipwell, G. B. Alexander and B. McInerney; Bombardiers - C. B. Burden, H. A. De Veber, J. W. McCandless, W. J. Lawson, F. J. MacGibbon, C. D. Otty, A. M. James, N. A. McKenzie and J. I. Morrison becoming the most prominent.

The recruiting had been carried on at such a pace that Lieutenant-Colonel Seely found himself with almost double the number of men required. The military authorities were quick to recognize this valuable material and soon orders were issued for the formation another battery. These two batteries were numbered Twenty-three and Twenty-four and formed the Second division of the Sixth Brigade, C.F.A., commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel E. W. Rathbun. On December 17th, Lieutenant Colonel B. A. Ingraham, of Sydney, N.S., arrived to take command of the Twenty-fourth Battery.

While the Batteries were stationed at Fredericton the people of the city gave them a most hospitable reception. Dances, teas, concerts, sleigh drives, suppers and parties were organized for the boys. At Christmas and New Year's, seasonable treats and dinners were provided by the citizens and were thoroughly enjoyed.

Several changes were made among the Officers of the Twenty-third Battery; Lieutenant-Colonel Seely, whose organization ability had been early recognized by the department, was commissioned to raise a batter for the defense of the wireless station at Barrington, N.S.. Captain J. K. MacKay, who had proved himself to be one of the ablest artillery Officers in Canada, was appointed Officer Commanding the battery, and Lieutenant R. V. Jones, a young and efficient Officer, having resigned his commission to go in the ranks, John E. Read, of Halifax, N. S., and John N. McEachern, of Souris, P.E.I., were made Lieutenants.

During the winter the Batteries were inspected by Major-General The Honourable Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia and Defense, Lieutenant-Colonel Rathbun, and Major-General Rutherford, General Officer Commanding Sixth Division. Such progress had been made by the Brigade that they received orders to proceed to England at once.

On February 18th the Batteries left Fredericton. A civic reception committee waited on the men and farewell speeches were made by the Mayor of Fredericton, the Premier of New Brunswick, the Earl of Ashburnham and others. The ladies of Fredericton provided dainty but substantial lunches for the overland trip, and numerous individual presentations were made before leaving.

Headed by the Fredericton Brass Band, the troops marched to the I.C.R. station and entrained for Halifax. The citizens had turned out en masse and gave the boys a warm and hearty send-off.

At Halifax they boarded the White Star liner Megantic, and sailed on February 22nd. Arriving at Queenstown, Ireland, a two days' stop was made in the harbor; then the Megantic, escorted by two torpedo boat destroyers, was driven full speed to Liverpool through the danger zone of the German submarine blockade. Another day found the Twenty-third Battery comfortably quartered in Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe Camp, Kent. Here the real training for war began in earnest and soon this battery was sending men to the firing line. On an inspection by the Chief Gunnery Instructor, Lieutenant-Colonel Battscombe, an Imperial Officer who had spent all his life in artillery work, the Twenty-third Battery had the distinction of being declared fit to proceed to the Front at once.

Shortly afterwards they were removed to Ross Barracks, and on May 28th, Major MacKay sailed for France; with him went a draft of three hundred and thirty six men, including practically all the Twenty-third Battery. Those left behind were to act as instructors and base details for the Reserve. No doubt they will all be in France by the time of publication.

The Battery has been all drafted to the Second Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery and the Divisional Ammunition Column in France.

Any further record of the Battery will be available only at the close of the war. Doubtless the names of the Twenty-third Battery will go down in history; their deeds will be a credit and add glory to their native land. The newer generations will look with pride upon the part taken in the great war by the Field Artillery Batteries from the Maritime provinces.

Notes for Arthur Ernest Dalton:

great sadness and heavy heart that we announce the passing of Arthur Ernest Dalton. Arthur was the son of Freda Joan (Langille) Dalton and Charles Ernest Dalton. Arthur was born on August 4, 1947 in Pictou where he spent all of his life. He was born with health problems which bothered him throughout his life. As a young boy and youth he loved to swim and row his boat with his dog, 'Laddie' in the back seat to the Mile Bridge and around the harbour. As he got older, he took a great interest in fishing off the wharf in Pictou. He would always catch fish when no one else could. He also loved his collection of bag pipe music which he would sit and listen to often. He would even practice with the Heatherbells years ago (drumming). As he got older in years he was stricken with diabetes and this ailment took the use of his legs, so he was confined to a wheelchair and entered the Shiretown Nursing Home in 2004 where he passed away on January 1, 2019. Cremation has taken place. There will be no visitation. Graveside Committal Service will take place in St. James Cemetery (next to his parents) at a later date, and will be announced. A big thank you goes out to all the staff and residents of Shiretown Nursing Home and fur baby, Bella, without all your love, support and dedication, we would not have got through this difficult time

28. ALGIE JOSEPH⁴ O'BRIEN (Catherine "Alice" Elizabeth³ Dalton, James² Dalton, William¹ Dalton) was born in 1901 in Pictou, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, Canada. He died in 1983 in Pictou, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, Canada. He married Anna Gladis Vigneault, daughter of Joseph-Alcide Vigneau and Séraphine Cyr, on 14 May 1922 in Stella Maris Church, Pictou, Nova Scotia. She was born on 23 Dec 1903 in Pictou, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Algie Joseph O'Brien and Anna Gladis Vigneault had the following children:

- i. BERTRAND CORNELIUS NEIL⁵ O'BRIEN was born on 05 Jan 1923 in Pictou, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, Canada. He died on 03 Apr 1988 in St-John's, Newfoundland. He married PATRICIA.

Notes for Bertrand Cornelius Neil O'Brien:

Neil O'Brien from Pictou had been a piper during WW2 and very shortly after D-Day had been playing at the "sharp end" as had been the policy then. Neil had his pipes shot out from under his arm and was taken prisoner and remained thus until the end of the war. He went to the Highland Games Antigonish with Don Roy and his father and both entered competition. Neil came first, an air force piper came second and Don Roy came third.

The Pictou Advocate, Wednesday, April 20, 1988 - C.B. Neil O'Brien, 65, of St. John's, formerly of Pictou, died Apr. 3 at home. Born in Pictou, he was a son of the late Algie O'Brien and Mrs Gladys O'Brien. He retired from the Canadian Army as a major. He served on the administrative staff of Memorial University, St. John's, and later as the administrator of the schools of trades and technology, St. John's, until his

Notes for Gerald James Jollymore:

Pictou

Gerald James Jollymore - Age 80, Maritime Oddfellows Home, formerly of Faulkland St., Pictou. It is with profound sadness that we announce the passing of a beloved husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather. Dad passed away peacefully after braving the challenges of Alzheimer's Disease. Gerald was a lifelong resident of Pictou. Born July 6, 1936 to Victoria (Dalton) and Tom Jollymore, he attended Sir William Dawson and Patterson Schools, and was also a member of the Pictou Highlanders. He trained as a pipefitter in the late 1960's and was employed by Pictou Industries and formerly Ferguson Industries for many years. He was also worked at the Halifax Shipyard and in Alberta. Gerald was fondly known to many as "Two Inch" a name he proudly displayed on his license plate. He had a great sense of humour and loved to share a story and a joke. In his younger years he enjoyed a good game of cards or pool. He also enjoyed Harness Racing with his buddies, historical reading and going for drives. He was very fond of children and animals, and could be seen daily, over the years, walking one of his four legged friends, Sam, Jake or Lucky, who gave him great joy. Dad had a smile that would light up a room and a generous heart. We loved him beyond words, he was our Hero. The family would like to thank the staff of East Cumberland Lodge, Glen Haven Manor and the Maritime Oddfellows Home for the care Dad received in his final years. Besides his parents, Gerald was predeceased by his brother, Tom; sister, Mary; step-brother, Alton Welsh; several aunts and uncles. He is survived by his wife of 52 years, Doris (Doiron); children, Mary Anne (Lance) Bohaker, Halifax; James, Cold Lake, Alberta; Lisa (Dale Smith) Pictou; Tom, Scotch Hill; Brenda, Pictou; Ada (Tony)Van Veld, Lyon's Brook; grandchildren, Brian Scotland, Hinton Alberta; Peter La Rade, Josh Sarson, Carly and Lauren Smith and Jake Dunnewold, Pictou; great-grandchild, Noah LaRade-MacDonald.

A service to celebrate his life will be held 11 AM Friday August 5, 2016 in the McLaren Funeral Home Chapel, Pictou. The family will receive visitors Thursday, August 4th from 2-4 and 7-9 PM, also in the McLaren Funeral Home. Donations in his memory may be made to any chapter of the SPCA, the Alzheimer's Society of Nova Scotia, or a charity of your choice. Your Memory Will Live On in Our Hearts

Notes for Robert Joseph Gaudet:

GAUDET, Robert Joseph "Bobby" age 54 of Pictou, passed away at home after a long battle with cancer and other chronic medical conditions. Robert "Bobby" was born November 30th 1967 in Pictou and was a man of many trades. One of his first long term jobs was at the Scotsburn lumber mill before he discovered his true passion of being a truck driver. Many residents of Pictou may remember Bob from his time spent driving a taxi for Alf's. You could never really guess what he would be up to. It could be fishing, riding his motorcycle, helping others, or spending time with the ones he loved. He took so much joy from helping others whether it be his family, friends, or a complete stranger. Dad was so very proud to have been able to sponsor a child from World Vision for many years. Robert "Bobby" was predeceased by his parents, Leonard Gaudet and Pamala Dalton and his eldest son John Ryan. Bobby is survived by his best friend and dog, Tiny; his two children, Bobby (Julia) Gaudet, Nicky (Corey) Gaudet; brothers and sisters, Paul (Joyce), Pictou; David, BC; Terry, Alberta; Rhonda and Randy, Alberta; Leonard and Dawnifer,
